Hi,

Our engineering team told me that we need the license for SLX, and that it was part of the asset purchase. Would you please provide more specifics about how Broadcom is using the software?
For which product in what capacity?

These TPPS licenses are part of the asset acquisition, so I'm not sure if it's an optional assignment.

Thanks

Hi Jennifer,
Unless I am missing something, since Brocade is still using their product and SNMP is not willing to transfer a portion of the licenses, it looks like Extreme will need to purchase their own licenses.
Just let me know if there is any other information you need.
Thanks,

Hi,
Can you let me know how we want to handle the below?

Subject: FW: SNMP license service agreement

Hi Tyrene,

I need Broadcom's feed-back on the below.

SNMP won't sign partial assignments or split and assigns. It's all or nothing.

Will you please let me know your thoughts?

Thanks!

All I am saying is we need to get license covered for these two platforms. I am presuming Extreme will need to pay for licenses used by it, in some form or other – either by sharing cost with Broadcom (StrataX) or alone.

Regards

Sunil

Thanks for the info, below.

What if SNMP wants to push back and won't do a split and assign?

Brocade needs to continue to use the software, as well.

Are we willing to pay for the license, if we have to?

The SNMP attorney is complaining about this arrangement.

Let me know what you think.

Thanks!

Hi Jennifer,

Both VDX and SLX platforms use SNMP Research's Emanate Lite as their embedded SNMP agent. Since FOS is now part of Broadcom, we will need to have a license agreement for these platforms.

Let us know if you have further questions.

Sunil

Hi Sunil and Murtaza,
I haven't heard back from you on the below.
Please let me know next steps.
Should I schedule a call with SNMP?

Thanks

Including Sunil and Murtaza...

Jennifer, please work with Sunil and Murtaza for SNMP. We use this SNMP for VDX and SLX product lines.

Thanks

Hi Jennifer,

Products Session Director, Visibility manager and vTAP (Shiva's and Shubharanjan's teams) do not use this license. Not sure which products use this license. Someone in the mailing list can respond or give a pointer,

Reagrds,
-Sridhar

Subject: RE: SNMP license service agreement

Hi,

I need help to wrap this one up.

1. Brocade wants the SNMP license partially assigned b/c they want to continue to use it

With respect to the SNMP Research Agreement, on our end, we use SNMP Research's Emanate in "FOS" which is in all of our products. It's our SNMP agent.

2. SNMP is saying we can't share or partially assign the license.

I need to know if we care? And/or if it makes sense to just buy a new SNMP license?

Please identify 1 contact who can help resolve this matter.

Thank you!!
